

Why Homeowners Insurance Is Harder To Get

Wildfire losses, rising construction costs, and strict rate rules have made it difficult for insurers to stay profitable in many areas.

Some companies are pausing new policies or canceling existing ones, but the California FAIR Plan remains an insurer of last resort.

The good news is that there are things you can do to make your home more appealing to insurers and lower your premiums.